PRICE TWO CENTS.

KAISER EXPECTED TO BE CONCILIATORY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, June 14.—That the chances for a peaceful settlement of the present controversy between the U. S. and Germany are improving daily is the belief in well informed quarters here. The Washington view now is that Germany is becoming as desirous as the U. S. to continue peaceful relations.

The possibility of an early understanding between the two nations takes precedence in comment in official and diplomatic quarters and while no one is able to say what the German note will assert in reply it is regarded as significant that those in the confidence of German representatives and sympathizers believe that the reply of the Kaiser will be conciliatory and will admit of a common meeting ground between the two governments.

Official circles here there is a growing impression that Germany, beset on every hand with an increasing number of enemies, soon will be ready to consider peace talk in the great European conflict. Accepting this surmise as correct, it is regarded as all the more likely that Germany will assume a conciliatory attitude toward the U. S. not only that she may avoid trouble with that nation but that the services of a powerful neutral government like the U. S. may be available should peace appear on the European war horizon.

The editorial comment of the German press on the second Wilson note is being read with great interest by officials here and they are understood to have been much encouraged by the more conciliatory tone of these expressions. It has been the opinion of those in authority here that the negotiations could proceed in a spirit of friendliness, a peaceful settlement being possible, but it is realized that with a hostile public opinion prevailing in either country, diplomatic negotiations would become difficult. The fact that the German press seems to regard the Wilson note as a friendly and not a belittling document, is adding to the encouragement now felt at Washington over the outcome of the present imbroglio.

Official but accepted reports have reached here that Germany has two groups of conflicting thought on the subject of submarine warfare. The reports are that one group in the government is known as the military element and is headed by von Tirpitz; the other is the non-military group and has as its chief spokesmen Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and von Jagow, the foreign minister. It is assumed that when the reply was sent to the first American note, the military group must have been in the ascendancy and that this largely is accountable for the fact that the former reply of Germany was regarded as highly unsatisfactory and evasive and tending to add to the tension.

It now appears that the two groups have become more equal in strength and it is believed the tenor of the second German note will depend to a great extent upon which one of these two factions wins out in the struggle within the German government.

Nevertheless it is noted with satisfaction here that there seems to be a flow of peace talk in German quarters and this has encouraged official and diplomatic Washington to expect a reply which will lead to an amicable adjustment of a grave situation.

William J. Bryan was not in Washington today and there was no statement from him. It is said, however, that Mr. Bryan will issue another peace broadside when he returns tomorrow from Old Point Comfort, Va., where he is now recuperating after the strenuous efforts of the past week.

The resignation of the Premier and his statement that the American note was "softened" after he resigned continued, however, to be a prominent subject of conversation in Washington officialdom.

This government will assume a waiting attitude, the next ten days as it is not anticipated that the German reply will be received before the expiration of that time as the note has been transmitted to the Kaiser at the battlefield for his personal inspection.

AUTOMOBILE WRECKED.
Reckless Driver Smashes His Car But Escapes Injury.

Sunday afternoon a party of Kingston motorists were run in by a Ford car but a short distance above Chichester and the Ford car was demolished. The accident happened when the Ford tried to dodge in between the Kingston car as they were passing another machine on a narrow stretch of road. In making too short a turn the Ford struck the mud guard of the Kingston machine and turned half way over throwing out two women and a small child who were seated in the rear seat. The driver, who admitted the accident was due to his carelessness, and the other occupant of the front seat remained in the machine and no one was injured. The only damage to the Kingston machine was a damaged mud guard. The Ford was driven by a man named Blish from Fleischmanns. The fact that the Kingston machine was practically at a stop when the cars came together was the only thing which prevented the smaller machine from turning turtle and crushing the two men in the front seat. The party from Kingston were driving a Cadillac.

STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS

The annual convention of the State Sunday School Association was held in Auburn, N. Y., on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week and was one of the most successful conventions ever held by the association. Kingston was represented at the convention by the Rev. George W. Gulick, county superintendent of the Ulster County Sunday School Association, and Superintendent William S. Eltinge, of the First Dutch Church and Miss Margaret Loughran and Francis Osterhout of the First Dutch Church.

The convention elected the following officers: President, Courtney C. Avery, of Auburn; vice presidents, Charles E. Patterson of Schenectady, Prof. Frank S. Boynton of Ithaca, and S. L. Strivings of Castile; trustees, Stephen Baker of New York, William G. Lightfoot of Canandaigua, A. J. Rumsey of Batavia and J. B. Murray of Yonkers.

One of the most inspiring addresses delivered at the convention was that given by Miss Margaret Slattery, who is well known to Sunday school workers in Ulster county. She said that if the church has failed it is not because it has wanted to but because it has missed the call amid the clamor of earth, because it has never used the material which is never about it. "The church can never be a potential failure for it is bound to win and it is going to win. There is enough power within the church today to do all that God has planned for it, all that is necessary is a kindling force. If we do this work we shall have to do some new things. If there is ever to be any power in the world it must be kindled in two places, the state schools and the church schools. You can't do as much with grown ups as with children."

"That is patriotism? I do not know, I never saw any. But I do know that men will die for it and I know that we can do as much with Christianity in keeping a fire in the heart as we can with patriotism. If we only have the power to kindle the fire in our own hearts. The trouble is we do not want to do things which we have never done. We want to do them in the same way that our fathers and grandfathers did and not do new things to meet new conditions. When a boy sneers at the church, when he turns his back on religion, when he feels no thrill at the name of Jesus, or at the mention of the Bible, what is the matter? Who gave him his conception of those things? You did mother, you did father, by your conversation and your life. You are the makers of his conception and he judges the value of your religion by its effect on his life. If we are to send out makers of energy, in which the power is now lying dormant, we must do some things we have never done before, and among them we must live so as the boy or girl will get a proper conception of religion from us. We must build up a new conception of the church and Christianity in his mind. "I can train your child to be patriotic; I can train him to earn his living with his hands or his head, but who is going to train his soul, the most important thing of all? The power within him is useless if not used. Awaken it but don't awaken it only to let it die out again. Until we can make use of this power we can never make the church supreme." The speaker made a plea for church unity especially in dealing with the children and in conclusion she said, "Don't try to make a Presbyterian out of him. Don't try to make a Methodist out of him, nor a Baptist or an Episcopalian, but make a Christian. Don't have denomination in your church. If the name must go to keep unity, let it go so long as the name Christian remains, and if some brother has to go because the name does, let him go. We don't want to win the world to any church but to Christ."

Tribute to Janitor Kiersted.

The June issue of The Academy News, published by the student body of Kingston Academy, pays a tribute to George F. Kiersted, who for the past fifteen years has been the faithful janitor of the academy. The News says: "The News would not be true to itself, nor to the student body of Kingston Academy, if it did not on this occasion pay a tribute to Mr. Kiersted. For fifteen years he has served faithfully, diligently and well, serving K. A. as few men of his age could and with more ardor than many students. We have always found him loyal to the Purple and Gold, and ever ready to take an interest in the affairs of the academy. He loves so well that he may have his faults—where is the man without them—but his good, sterling qualities far outweigh those faults. Liberal minded, he knows no race nor religious prejudices. Broadminded in his views, he believes in his fellowmen and represents to us the highest type of his race. Giving always his best to the illustrious old school, its students will never be ungrateful to his memory nor forgetful of his services. We voice the prevailing sentiment of K. A. when we say in all sincerity—'all honor to a faithful supporter of the traditions of K. A.'"

Dances at Kingston Point.

A dance will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the Oriental Pavilion, Kingston Point. On Tuesday evening Canton-Dikes, No. 19, a Poughkeepsie house company, will run an excursion to the Point that night being Firemen's night at the Point. Music for the dances will be furnished by McLean's orchestra.

Mary Powell Delayed.

The steamer Mary Powell did not arrive in the Rondout creek until after 9 o'clock on Saturday night. The cause was that the boat could not leave her slip owing to the heavy wind and tide and laid up for a short time. No accident to the machinery occurred, as has been reported.

CHICAGO STREET CARS TIED UP

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Chicago, June 14.—For the first time in a generation, electric transportation in Chicago was completely tied up today. Not a wheel was turned on the surface and elevated lines after 5 o'clock this morning and more than 1,000,000 persons employed in the Loop district were forced to find some other means of transit.

The strike of the car men who are demanding more pay and improved working conditions, was officially called at midnight, but the last car was not run into the barns until five hours later. The order called out 14,000 conductors, motormen and elevated guards.

Chicago today had more than 50,000 union workers on strike and a total of nearly 200,000 unionists were idle as the result of strikes and lockouts.

During the early hours of the day no disorders were reported. Personally directed by Chief Healy every policeman in the city was on duty all night and today, guarding against possible rioting. Every car barn and elevated terminal was under guard, and gatherings of strikers on the streets was not permitted.

Every known method of transportation was made use of today. Bicycles were in large demand and hundreds of pairs of roller skates were sold to persons who had no other way to reach their places of employment. Every taxicab and horse drawn vehicle was called into service and many private automobiles were run for profit. Thousands of workers walked miles. To add to their discomfort a heavy rain fell during part of the morning.

Trouble was anticipated on the south side elevated line today on account of an official announcement that trains would be run from the 61st street terminal manned by strike-breakers and guarded by special details of the most dependable policemen in the Chicago service.

Beginning about 9 o'clock, Supt. John M. Felkake stated trains would be started about ten minutes apart. Every "L" station and every foot of elevated structure was being guarded by policemen and detectives who feared the first attempt to run trains with strike-breakers would result in violence.

The public schools were not closed today although 3,000 teachers were forced to find some means of reaching their school rooms. The telephone companies, guarding against a possible shutting down of the downtown exchanges, housed 700 girl operators in the La Salle and Kaiserhoff hotels.

The morning newspapers carried the smallest amount of display advertising of any recent Monday. One, however, used more than five times its usual space bidding for business.

CARNIVAL SHOW HAS ARRIVED

The Levitt-Meyerhoff shows were delayed enroute from Poughkeepsie to this city on Sunday and instead of arriving here that afternoon it was 5 o'clock this morning before the big carnival pulled into this city. The work of unloading the thirty-one cars that carry the shows was started as soon as the train reached here and all through the day the work of setting up the tents and getting in readiness for the opening this evening was carried on. The shows will be ready for business this evening at 7 o'clock and undoubtedly a large crowd will welcome them to Kingston. The carnival company will be here all week under the auspices of the Central Hook & Ladder Company. It has been playing to big business in Poughkeepsie the past week and is considered one of the largest and best carnival companies on the road today and the best that has ever played Kingston.

KERHONKSON.

Kerhonkson, June 14.—At the Reformed Church on Thursday evening there will be a special meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society, led by Prof. W. W. Harries, of Kingston, and a number of other Endeavorers from that city, who will speak and sing. The object of the meeting is to arouse increased interest in the local society, and all interested in Christian Endeavor and young people's work are earnestly invited to attend.

Iroquois Officers Responsible.

Judge Smith, of the admiralty branch of the U. S. district court, has held that the officers of the steamer Iroquois are responsible for the collision with the steamer Berkshire off Tarrytown on August 6 last. According to the decision the owners of the Berkshire are entitled to recover damages and a referee will be appointed to assess this.

Mary Powell Delayed.

The steamer Mary Powell did not arrive in the Rondout creek until after 9 o'clock on Saturday night. The cause was that the boat could not leave her slip owing to the heavy wind and tide and laid up for a short time. No accident to the machinery occurred, as has been reported.

MISS ELIZABETH SPEERS.
In the voting contest for Queen of the Carnival today Miss Speers heads the list with the greatest number of votes.

FORD CAR STOLEN FROM ST. REMY MAN

A brand new automobile was stolen from the garage of Tracy Van Vliet at St. Remy on Saturday night or early Sunday morning. Mr. Van Vliet purchased a Ford car from James Millard & Son on Saturday and took a spin about the city, later returning to his home. When he went to the garage on Sunday morning it was gone. He at once notified the sheriff's office and the police headquarters and they have sent out notices to police in other cities to look for the thief. The local garages were watched during the day but no trace of the machine was found.

CHILDREN'S DAY PROGRAM.

Entire Day Given Them in Wurts Street Baptist Church.

The children and their interests had the right of way Sunday at the Wurts Street Baptist Church.

In the morning Dr. Fuller preached the most timely sermon on "The Child's Mission and the Parents' Ministry." Some of his striking utterances were, "We differ from animals in the possession and development of the spiritual faculty." "The Home Circle ought to be a Charmed Circle."

"The weal or woe of the nation is not being settled at Washington, but in the little home up there on the hillside and down in the valley; over on the avenue yonder and down there in the slums." "No home is complete without a child. Husband, wife and servant do not constitute a family, there must be the cry and smile of the babe." "The mission of the child is not only to fill up the family but to fill out and perfect the lives of parents, to turn self interest into self sacrifice. Domestic love is not all that it may be until husband and wife have looked into each other's face over the cradle."

"There is an important ministry before both. It is every child's right to be well born to come into an inheritance of health instead of sickness of love instead of lust."

"After the cradle becomes a part of the furniture in the house, the ministry is largely two-fold. The ministry of a good example and a wise limitation."

"Fathers often say they are too busy making money for the family to give any time to the religious training of the children."

"It has never seemed to me that father should pay his child's way to hell, yet that is what money does when the child is left without proper training and guidance."

"The danger today is not that our children will not be given enough but over indulgence. A wise limitation in dress, pleasure and all worldly things is the great need of these days of extravagant expenditure of time, money and energy."

"Three things make a right home atmosphere: love, discipline and prayer." When Jesus becomes real to the child and dominant in his life then the rest is just a matter of wise guidance."

The special services held at 4 o'clock were of more than usual interest. Dwight McEntee, acting superintendent, presided. There was a large attendance and in addition to the usual speaking and singing by members of the school, two rewards were presented. One of a beautiful bible to Miss Mildred Tronson for bringing in the most new pupils, and a five dollar gold piece given by a friend of the school was presented to Dayton Murray's class of girls for having the highest average attendance. They reached the high percent of 97.1-3.

At the close of the exercises three candidates from the school; Mrs. William Smith, Miss Ruth Lang and Helen Cole Van Aken, were inducted by Dr. Fuller. The beautiful service altogether made a deep impression on the large audience.

REWARD OFFERED FOR STOLEN CAR

Sheriff Shultis has offered a reward of $25 for any information leading to the recovery of the Ford touring car that was stolen at St. Remy some time Saturday night and the apprehension of the thief. The car was owned by Tracy Van Vliet, who had purchased it in Kingston on Saturday and that night had placed it in the garage back of his residence in St. Remy. Sunday morning it was discovered that some one had broken into the garage and run off with the car. The number plate bore the inscription "Dealer's No. 2525." The engine number is 806905, and body number 711946.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

Peter A. Black, the local Hudson dealer, received his first carload of the new 1916 model Hudsons on Saturday. The new model is attracting much attention with its new road cruiser body.

O. M. Kennedy, proprietor of the Central Garage, has sold and delivered a Reo six-cylinder touring car to Philip Van Etten of Saugerties.

In making the trip around the Ashokan reservoir it will be found much more agreeable to go up on the South Boulevard, following the old West Hurley road, by keeping to the left where it is intersected by the new road. The detour over the dirt road has hills in it that can be negotiated much easier going this way than coming from the other way. With the exception of this detour the Boulevards are in fine condition.

The first two miles of the road from West Hurley to Woodstock are in a disgraceful condition, full of ruts and "thank-you-ma-ams" that try the springs of a wagon or automobile.

The oiling of Abell street is practically completed and is an excellent piece of work that will avoid the necessity of resurfacing that street for a long time.

Wilbur avenue, through the lack of care, is rapidly getting in bad condition. A little mending of the surface, followed by oiling, would be true economy.

No better example of what elbow grease, common sense and crushed stone can do for a country road exists than the road from St. Remy to Ulster Park by way of Union Center. This road, always in bad condition, was repaired by Charles H. Schoonmaker, now supervisor of the town of Esopus, then town superintendent of highways, a number of years ago in the way such a road should be repaired, and although little has been done on it since, it is still in good condition and carrying a heavy traffic.

Work is being rushed on the West Park-Ulster Park section of the state trunk line. The grading has been finished from the Lloyd line to a point this side of Pratt's mill and the grading gang are now working in the southern end of Esopus village. The road is closed and the only detour is by way of New Paltz. The sign at the corner in St. Remy is misleading and many strangers take the road to Ulster Park, only to find that they must turn back. Follow the state road to New Paltz.

The road from New Paltz to the county road at Tilton, running on the west side of the Walkkill through Springtown, is in good condition with the exception of a short stretch of sand near Tilton, and affords a pleasing change in the way of coming to this city from New Paltz.

Beyond Stone Ridge village, just before coming to the aqueduct, there is a road to High Falls that is much better than the one usually travelled in the past.

Another effort at resurfacing the abominable concrete road from Hurley to Marlborough is being made.

Some of the worst spots in the Kingston-West Hurley road are being resurfaced. The whole road needs it.

Looking For Negro Criminal.

The police of Hudson and other river towns are searching for a negro who is wanted for assaulting a five-year-old girl named Bedell near the city on Sunday. The girl claims that he induced her to enter the woods and there tied her hands with a hair ribbon. As she called for help he threatened to kill her. When recovering consciousness she told of the assault and a posse of citizens started out with the sheriff. Two suspects were arrested in Albany but later discharged.

Additional Ferry Service.

The Rhinebeck and Kingston Ferry Company has secured the ferryboat City of Newburgh for use on Wednesday and Thursday between this city and Rhinebeck on account of the firemen's convention. FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, June 14.—Nearly all the speculative interest on the stock exchange was concentrated this morning in low priced shares and some of the group moved in a manner that was hard to explain. U. S. Reduction and Refining, Common and preferred both sold at six in the initial dealings and the Junior shares moved up to 10 3/4, while the Preferred touches 10 1/4, and then reacted to nine. American Linseed rose 1/4 to 13 1/4 and such issues as Quicksilver and Ontario Silver were forced into prominence. The standard issues moved within a comparatively narrow range. American Smelting continued in good demand, rising 1/4 to 8 1/4. United States Steel Common improved 3/4 to 61 1/2. Amalgamated gained 1/4 to 77 1/4. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific both scored fractional improvements. American Beet Sugar advanced 1/4 to 52 1/2. Goodrich gained 2 1/2 to 50 1/4. American Sugar was strong and active, moving up 1 1/2 to 110. 2:30 p. m. market heavier, tone developed in the late trading and in the first half of the last hour a number of issues declined. Steel sold around 60, after having opened at 61 1/2. Westinghouse which had sold around 97 1/2 at noon went to 97. Other losses were in proportion.

The stock market closed steady; government bonds unchanged; other bonds irregular.

ONLY 6 NEW CASES OF SCARLET FEVER

Six new cases of scarlet fever have been reported to Health Officer Stelle. The are as follows:

Edward Dempsey, 199 Downs street.

Katherine Bunt, 149 O'Neil street.

Clifford Schryver, 290 Clinton street.

Nellie Joseph and William McAllister, 47 Lafayette avenue.

The diphtheria case of E. O'Connor, 193 West Chestnut street.

There is no occasion for alarm if cases are promptly reported and quarantine is observed, and to the fact that this is done the health officer is bending his best energies and pursuing the same plan of campaign by following which he so promptly stamped out the smallpox epidemic a few years ago after a policy of suppression of information had permitted it to spread before Dr. Stelle took charge of the affair.

Red Cross Mexican Relief.

So far only two contributions have been received by Mr. Schaffer, treasurer of the local Red Cross for the Mexican Relief fund, which is one of the most urgent needs of the present day. Mrs. John Forsyth has contributed $20 and the girls of the Kikuit Club, $2. And yet word comes from Consul General Hanna that unless the contributions of corn, beans and rice come in in much larger quantities and faster than up to the present time, large numbers of women and children can scarcely be saved from starvation. Contributions should be sent as promptly as possible to Joseph M. Schaffer, care State of New York National Bank, Kingston, N. Y., (treasurer of the Ulster County Chapter of the American National Red Cross.)

An Inscrutable Mood.

"I want to ask your consent to my marriage with your daughter," said the formal youth.

"Young man," replied Mr. Cumrox, "don't you bother me with any more such talk. If you and Gwendolyn met married it's her and her mother's doings, and I don't want to be brought into it. I'm tired of being held responsible for every kind of trouble that comes up in this family."—Washington Star.

The Roads of Norway.

A curious feature to travelers on the highroads of Norway is the great number of gates—upward of 10,000 in the whole country—which have to be opened. These gates, which either mark the boundaries of the farms or separate the home fields from the waste lands, constitute a considerable inconvenience and delay to the traveler, who has to stop his vehicle and get down to open them.

Very Much So.

"I wonder what the poet meant when he alluded to woman in her hours of ease as being uncertain, coy and hard to please."

"I don't know about the coy part," said the saleslady, "but when it comes to picking out a hat she's all the rest of it."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

At Niagara.

"You had a day at Niagara, I understand."

"Yes; had a delightful time there too."

"Walls were pretty fine, eh?"

"Why—er—we didn't see the falls. We spent all our time at the movies."

—Judge.

And Then He Was Fined.

Judge:—Then when your wife seized the weapon you ran out of the house? Plaintiff:—Yes, sir. Judge:—But she might not have used it. Plaintiff:—True, your honor. Maybe she picked up the flatiron just to smooth things over. —Boston Transcript.

Who would not have feet set on his neck let him not stoop.—Italian Proverb.

Macaulay and His Razors.

Macaulay was a self-shaver—though not with a safety—and the woeful results are recorded in his biography. When he sailed for India and his chambers were cleared for him there were found between fifty and sixty strokes, hacked into strips and splinters, and innumerable razors in every stage of disrepair. At one time he hurt his hand and had to go to the barber. After the operation he asked the charge, "Oh, what ever you usually give the person who shaves you?" was the answer. "In that case," said Macaulay, "I should give you a great gash on either cheek."—London Mirror.

Castle Garden.

Only old New Yorkers know that there used to be an island 200 feet off the Battery and that it was fortified and known as Fort Clinton. The island was connected with the mainland by a drawbridge. When the waterway was filled in the island became a part of the Battery and was known as Castle Garden. As everybody knows, it is now the aquarium.

Too Much For Art.

"Oh, Mr. Jinks," said the gushing young thing at the plunk, "don't you just perfectly adore the modern painters?"

"Not in all cases," replied the cynic, surveying the gathering with a jaundiced eye. "Some of them, it appears to me, daub it on just a little too thick."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

YOUR WORK.

You must be sure of two things—you must love your work and not be always looking over the edge of it, wanting your play to begin; you must not be ashamed of your work and wanting to be doing something else.—George Eliot.

Rising to the Occasion.

"Maurice," said Aunt Nellie, "wasn't it hard for you to stand up before all the people and speak, at the Sunday school concert?"

Maurice straightened his small form and assumed all the dignity his five years could command. "Yes, auntie, it was pretty hard, but I swelled up to it."—Woman's Home Companion.

A GENIAL SMILE.

Who can tell the value of a genial smile? It costs the giver nothing, but is beyond price to the erring and relenting, the sad and cheerless, the lost and forsaken. It disarms malice, subdues temper, turns hatred into love and paves the darkest paths with sunlight.

An Unusual Man.

"I notice you consult that man frequently."

"I have great respect for him," said Congressman Flindub.

"As to why?"

"I offered him a little puffing office once, and he wouldn't give up a good paying business to accept it."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WHY SCHOOL MONEY IS NOT RECEIVED

County Treasurer Snyder has received the following communication which is self explanatory:

June 11, 1915.

Dear Sir:

There have been so many inquiries as to the cause of the delay in the payment of the second half of the public school money that I have deemed it wise to issue this circular letter explaining the situation.

There is in the state treasury at the present time less than two millions of dollars with which to pay the running expenses of the state government until October 1st. The Comptroller is endeavoring to negotiate a loan sufficient to meet all obligations. This effort on his part has been met in certain quarters with opposition resulting in injunctions restraining him from making the loan. The appellate division has sustained the comptroller in his contention of the legality of this loan, but because of the legal questions involved he has not yet been able to secure the money. The public money will be paid immediately upon his being able to negotiate this loan, but it is impossible to make any promise as to when he will be able to do so. We hope that it will be in the very near future.

Respectfully yours,
HIRAM C. CASE,
Chief, Statistics Division.

LOCAL BASEBALL DOINGS.

Games Played or to be Played by the Home Teams.

On Sunday afternoon the Sawkill Juniors defeated the Ruby baseball team at Sawkill by the score of 19 to 18. The game was fast and exciting.

Sunday the Red Monograms accompanied by about one hundred Kingston "fans," went to Poughkeepsie and gave the "Hustlers" of that city a merciless rubbing, winning the game by a score of 13 to 5. The "Hustlers" pitcher was knocked out of the box in the second inning. With all the bases covered in the fourth inning, Bedford hit for a home run. Scherer pitched for the Monograms. He was splendidly supported.

In Saturday's game between the Monograms and the Wappingers Falls Tri-County League team, on McVey's field, the Monograms won 8 to 5. It will be remembered that the Wappingers Falls contingent defeated the Monograms in two games Decoration Day. Since then the local nine has been considerably strengthened and is now in a fair way to head the club standing list of the Tri-County League.

What was considered one of the fastest games ever played by amateurs was played by the Trilby A. C., formerly the Clark A. C., and the Barmann A. C., the Barmanns winning in the last inning by a score of 4 to 3. Stitzel, the Barmann's crack pitcher, won the game by a neat two base hit, scoring two men. Both pitchers pitched good ball. Stitzel had 13 strike outs while Dietz had 12. Score by innings:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Trilby	0	1	0	2	0	0	0	0	3	6	6
Barmann	0	0	1	0	1	0	0	2	4	6	5

A team representing Ulster Academy but mostly composed of ball players, who have long forgotten school days went to Newburgh Saturday and lost a ten inning game to the high school team by the score of 10 to 9. The locals' lineup was: Connors, catcher; Culloton, pitcher; Terwilliger, first base; Hallinan, second base; Webster, short stop; Pehleman, third base; Murray, right field; Rowland, center field; Fitzgerald, right field.

Have to Tempt 'Em.

Perhaps the newspapers throughout the country which have been printing a story about a Boston dog that eats beans will be interested to know that there is a Boston cat that will eat beans if turkey gravy is put on them.—Boston Globe.

For the Children

Master Gilbert W. Kahn
as an English Officer.

Recently there was held in New York an entertainment called a Lafayette fund fete. It was under the auspices of rich and socially prominent people and had for its object the raising of money to aid the wounded soldiers of France. The entertainment was principally of tableaux and living pictures, children dressed in colonial costumes and uniforms being the actors. The boy in the picture represents an English lieutenant of the colonial period, and there were scores of youngsters in equally brilliant and handsome costumes. The boy's name is Gilbert W. Kahn, son of Otto H. Kahn, who is prominent in social and financial circles in New York city.

A Fight With a Cougar.

In company with an Indian a Port Angeles (Wash.) man went fishing for salmon in a rocky river. Suddenly a big cougar appeared at the entrance to a cave and, with a roar, crouched to spring at the Indian.

The white man threw his fish spear at the cougar, while the Indian ran for his life.

The spear entered the animal's neck and ear, and thus the man held him at a distance and tried to drown him. But the cougar was too strong and agile for that, and finally the spear came out of its hold.

For four long hours the man and the cougar fought, the cougar walking around and around and every once in awhile making a spring, which the man every time repulsed with the spear.

The combat only ended when the Indian returned, after a twelve mile trip, with a gun. His first shot wounded the beast in the side; the second lodged in its head and killed it.

Arctic Dogs.

Far up north on the wild and snowy wastes is the home of the Eskimo or arctic dogs. Although many of them are half savage, scarcely more than reclaimed wolves, they are wonderfully cunning and enduring. With the reindeer they are the beasts of burden, valuable to their owners and a great help to explorers and travelers in these cold, trackless regions. Over the untrodden frozen plains these dogs can travel at the rate of seven to eight miles an hour, drawing a good sized load and keeping up the pace for several days. In summer they are turned loose to shift for themselves and are far more care free than in the winter season, when they must toil for their masters.

Sheep Intelligence.

However stupid we have learned to consider sheep, they are not devoid of sympathy and charity one for another. A shepherd was driving home a flock of sheep when he noticed one of them lagged behind and bleated piteously. Then he saw another of the flock run back and walk with it until they overtook the rest. On examining the animal that had stayed behind he found that it was blind and must have called for help. In some manner making an appeal that met with immediate response.

Fairyland.

I wonder if a girlie must,
In fairyland, always wear
A dress with lace and trimming fussied
And ribbon bows in her hair.

I wonder when she talks too fast
If some one is there to say
That children always should speak last
And older folks quick obey.

I wonder if she takes the hose
And carelessly wets her head,
If she is robbed of all her clothes
And put at once in her bed.

I wish there was some way to know
About such unpleasant things,
If fairies treat small children so
I'd ask no fairy for wings!
—Philadelphia Record.

The Turn-Down.

One of the latest fads is for a young woman to wear the name of her fiancé embroidered on the ankle of her stocking. And I suppose if they ever fall out she simply turns the hose on him.

Plaster of Paris Casts Renovated.
Casts of plaster paris, which have become soiled, can be easily cleaned by melting some whiting in water. Dissolve a little isinglass in warm water to prevent it from rubbing off. Stir the liquid well, and apply to the plaster with a soft camel's hair brush.

Washing Greasy Utensils.
It is a good plan to wipe out all greasy utensils with a piece of soft paper before washing. This simplifies the washing process. Destroy the paper immediately.

Hardly Worth the Time.
To multiply 15 by itself, and the result (225) by itself, and so on until 15 products have been multiplied by themselves in turn, would take a person writing three figures a minute and working ten hours a day for 300 days in each year 28 years to accomplish.

Who Defended the Works?

By F. A. MITCHEL

When the Germans were besieging Paris in 1871 one part of the force came to the very outskirts of the city and encountered a portion of the defenses, something like a revolutionary barricade blocking a street. There was only room for a single company, and its captain before making an attack stood off and, raising a pair of binoculars, examined the works.

They were composed of paving stones, pieces of timber and such other articles as had been brought together for an improvised fortification. But the captain could not see a single man on the parapet. This he did not like. There was the look of a trap about it. If he moved his troops forward he must do so over a distance of some 500 or 600 yards between two walls not thirty feet apart and straight as an arrow. He could not deploy his men by the flank, and as for scattering along the street they would be one behind another, and a shot would bring down every man in line.

Moreover, the captain noticed a dark spot in the works, which indicated that a single stone had been removed in the very center of the fortification. He assumed at once that the aperture was for the muzzle of a cannon, which would sweep the street, doubtless, with the scattering projectiles of the period. That meant that before a force of eighty men—the number under the captain's command—could reach the barricade a large proportion of them would be killed or wounded.

The captain called his first lieutenant, handed him his glass, directed him to take a look at the breastworks and then asked him what he thought about an attempt to carry them. The lieutenant examined the works, then, lowering his glass, remarked:

"What are the orders, captain?"
"The orders are to move forward."
"Then we must move forward, but those who live will have moved backward."

The captain's only response was an order to advance. Shoulder to shoulder, the men marched on—for, as has been said, they could not scatter—till about a third of the distance had been traversed. Then a puff of smoke issued from the dark spot in the center of the works, and a storm of missiles broke upon the advancing line of Germans. A third of the company fell, and another dozen limped or staggered to the rear.

The rest pressed on, but a few minutes were lost in reforming, or, rather, closing, the gaps that had been made. With steady step they marched till they had covered half the distance between their starting point and the fort. There was light where the dark spot had been, and they knew that the piece had been retired to be reloaded. This gave them courage. It was an old fashioned muzzle loader, and time must be spent after every discharge in reloading. The captain gave the order to double quick, but before they had covered a dozen yards there came another hailstorm, and another twenty men were put out of the fight.

This was terrible slaughter, and the force recoiled. Some stood ready to retrace their steps; others started back. The second lieutenant stood in rear and, striking some of the fugitives with his sword, drove them back toward the enemy. The captain was among the wounded and lay in a pool of his own blood. The first lieutenant cried at the top of his voice "Forward, men!" and started at the head of some thirty soldiers to make the rest of the distance and storm the fort, though the move was now a forlorn hope, for he expected that on reaching it he would find it defended by double the number of those who were making the attack.

When within fifty yards of the barricade there came another storm of missiles. Half the Germans were hit on the stones of the street, while the other half broke and fled. The lieutenant called to them in vain. Preferring death to following them in flight, he turned and ran forward to the fort, expecting every moment to be shot down. He reached the barricade and, with a pistol in one hand, his sword in the other, climbed to the summit. There he stood, bewildered by the sight that met his view.

Not a man was behind the stones. The gun which the recoil from the last shot had driven backward a few feet was there, a thin film of smoke issuing from its vent. Leaning against it was a girl about twenty years old. She looked up at the lieutenant as though expecting instant death. Involuntarily he uncovered.

"Mademoiselle," he stammered in broken French, "where are the men who have been defending this barricade?"

"I have been defending this barricade, monsieur," was the reply.

"You—alone?"

"I—alone. Through a blunder the force that was to have held this work was ordered elsewhere."

"Mein Gott! Has a whole company been driven back by a—girl?"

"At this moment a company of French soldiers came around a corner at double quick. The lieutenant succeeded in making good a retreat, hearing cheers behind him:

"Vive mademoiselle!"

Having joined his commander, he led them again to the attack and finally captured the barricade. He looked for the girl who had defended it alone, but she was not there.

German Colors.

The German flag would be a rainbow if it included all the colors of the various kingdoms, principalities or states of the German empire. The black and white and the eagle in the German flag are Prussian, and in the staff head corner is the canton, black, white and red representative of the North German confederacy, which was established in 1867. The colors of Bavaria are blue and white; Hanover, yellow and white; Saxony, white and green; Wurttemberg, black and red; Mecklenburg-Strelitz, red and yellow and blue; Brunswick, blue and yellow; Saxe-Coburg Gotha, green and white; Schaumburg-Lippe, blue, red and white. The colors of Waldeck are black, red and yellow; Pomerania, blue and white; Baden, red and yellow; Hesse, red and white; Hanover, yellow and white.—Washington Star.

Light and the Skin.

When rays of light fall upon the skin of our bodies, which is translucent, the greater part of them are arrested, some by one layer of the skin, some by another, and still others are not stopped until they have penetrated the subcutaneous tissues. This arrest of the light rays produces radiant heat, which has a higher penetrating power than convection heat as generated by a hot water bag or poultice, for instance.

E. C. Titus in an address before the Illuminating Engineering society said that such heat penetrated two inches or more, while convection heat was excited principally on the surface.

This is why electric light baths and sun baths are so stimulating to the organs of elimination, especially the skin and kidneys, and so beneficial in so many diseases.—New York World.

King Charles' Mace.

During the late Lord Peel's tenure of the speakership he was informed that the mace ordered out of the house of commons by Cromwell had been discovered in Jamaica. On inquiry the information proved to be false, but it was found that Jamaica at one time possessed a mace presented by Charles II., which, like the earlier maces used at Westminster, has vanished. In 1677 Jamaica was overwhelmed by an earthquake, and among many public buildings engulfed at Port Royal was parliament house. With the wreck disappeared King Charles' mace.—London Spectator.

The Clarity of Macaulay.

"Macaulay never wrote an obscure sentence in his life," said John Morley, and this is partly due to his exact use of words. There is never any doubt about his meaning. Macaulay began the use of Latin words at an early age. When four and a half years old he was asked if he had got over the toothache, to which question came this reply: "The agony is abated."—J. F. Rhodes in "Historical Essays."

His Luck.

Tom—I wish that I had Alfred's good luck. Dick—So he's generally lucky? Tom—Lucky! If he walked out of the window in his sleep at dead of night there would be another man going by below carrying a feather bed.—Exchange.

MARSH GRADUATES FROM WEST POINT

One of the members of the first class of the United States Military Academy which was graduated at West Point last Saturday, is Raymond Marsh, a former Kingston boy. Mr. Marsh is remembered by many Kingston people. He is a graduate of Ulster Academy, having graduated with honors from that school in 1906. Shortly afterward he obtained a position in the Rondout National Bank, where he was employed until 1911, when he obtained his appointment as a cadet in the Military Academy. Mr. Marsh's career in the academy has been very successful. In the battalion organization of the cadet corps he has held the ranks of corporal, sergeant, company quartermaster, sergeant, and first sergeant. His academic record is equally satisfactory. Of a class of 162, Mr. Marsh graduated standing about 33. This class rank will give him the choice of any branch of the service and it is understood he will take the artillery and be stationed in the Philippines. To Mr. Marsh also belongs the distinction of being the first cadet from this district to graduate since 1896, when LeRoy Ellings, now a captain of cavalry, graduated. The present graduating class originally numbered 291.

The Way of Going.

And after all it may be best, just to be the happiest, sunniest hour of all the voyage, while eager winds are kissing every sail, to flash against the unseen rocks, and in an instant hear the billows roar above a sunken ship. For whether in midsea or among the breakers of the farther shore, a wreck at last must mark the end of each and all. And every life, no matter if its every hour is rich with love, and every moment jeweled with a joy, will at its close become a tragedy as sad and deep and dark as can be woven of the warp and woof of mystery and death—Robert Ingersoll.

Prayer.

If father gets the notion in his head that he is going to accomplish everything by prayer it makes it hard for mother, who has to get up early each morning in order that the children may have clothes and grub. I ain't knocking on prayer, mind you, but I don't pray for things that you can get without it.—Atchison County (Kan.) Mail.

ASSISTS BY FIELDERS

Astounding Records Made in Throwing Runners Out.

George Van Hatten Made Sensational Play on "Cy" Swain, a Washington Pitcher—Harry Niles Holds Major League Record.

In the season of 1898 George Van Hatten of the New York Giants, in a game against Washington, was playing center field. "Cy" Swain, who was hurrying for the Senators, while at bat, happened to make what looked like a safe drive to center. Nine times out of ten it would have gone safe, but Van made a mad dash and gathered it on the second bound and, without stopping, threw to first, the ball beating the slow-footed "Cy" by a good six feet, and Swain was sprinting his best all the time.

Statistics show that the outfielders back in the eighties and nineties had the shade on the present-day outfielders in making assists. The best record in number of assists made in one season in the majors in recent years, or since 1900, was made by Harry Niles, then with the St. Louis team. In 1904 Harry nailed 39 men from the outfield, getting them at different bases. In 1907, while playing right field for the Cincinnati team, Mike Mitchell equaled the mark set by Niles.

"Cy" Cobb, Joe Birmingham, Tris Speaker and Milan all have made especially good records in this direction.

and lead their respective teams in throwing out base runners from remote corners of the outer garden. In his day Fielder Jones was a past master in pegging the ball from the outfield and nipped many runners.

In the National league, since 1900, Murray of the Giants has the most consistent record in making assists, he leading the league in four seasons. But the old boys back in the halcyon days of the eighties made some astonishing records in throwing out base runners from afar off. Jimmy Fegarty of the Phillies averaged an assist from the outfield every third game he played in. Sam Thompson of the old Detroit and Phillies was a mighty thrower and was a terror to all base runners when he grabbed a ball in the outfield, for Sam could flash a ball to any base with startling accuracy.

Jimmy Ryan of the Chicago Nationals, left-handed though he was, could shoot a ball from the farthest corner of the outfield with deadly effect and seldom went through a season without setting 25 or more assists. Bill Lange had a wonderful throwing arm and was feared by all base runners in the National league.

PROPOSED TOUR IS DEcriED

Tex Rickard Talks of Sporting Conditions in South America—Baseball is Not Known.

That the proposed tour of the White Sox and Giants this fall to South America would be a great experience but a slim money-maker was the opinion of Tex Rickard the other day. Rickard, who staged a number of great matches, is on a visit to this country after a three-year sojourn in Paraguay. Tex has quit the fighting game for good, he said, and he is now one of the cattle barons of South America.

"If the White Sox and the Giants should take a tour to South America this fall," said Rickard, "they would have to go as missionaries of our national game, as the natives know very little about baseball."

FIGHTING INSOMNIA.

Some Advice About How to Woo "Nature's Sweet Restorer."

In fighting sleeplessness I have found nothing so helpful as a simple procedure based on the conditions which recent psychological experiment has proved to be fundamental to sleep. These are:

Mental and muscular relaxation, limitation of voluntary movement and monotony of sensation.

To obtain these the next time you find yourself wakeful select on the wall of your room some ornament or spot which, by reason of a ray of light from the moon or street lamp, seems to stand out clearly from its surroundings. Having selected this spot, assume a comfortable position in bed, taking care that you lie in such a way that you can see the spot on the wall without straining any part of your body.

Next, remaining perfectly motionless and thinking of nothing but the spot on the wall, gaze at it through half closed lids in such a way that it seems remote and indistinct.

Be sure not to try to get a full view of it. That would mean tension, not relaxation, and would defeat your purpose. Your gaze at the spot, while steady, must be without any straining of the attention.

Soon, if you have continued to lie perfectly quiet and to think of nothing but the spot on the wall, you will find your eyelids grow heavy and close completely. Open them half way, as before, and resume the process of gazing. They will again grow heavy and close, when you must, if you can, open them once more. Before long you will find it impossible to open them, for you will be sound asleep.

Even if your room be in total darkness you can still make use of this sleep bringing method by calling up before your mind's eye some imaginary object and gazing at it between half closed lids exactly as though it were really before you. Remember, however, that you must lie perfectly still, moving neither your hands nor your legs.

Try this device the next time you are troubled by wakefulness. From personal experience I am satisfied that, if you follow it faithfully in its details, you will find that it works like a charm.—H. Addington Bruce in Kansas City Times.

Big Hats in Colonial Days.

The question of high hats at public places was of some moment, even in colonial days. In 1769 the church at Andover, Mass., put it to vote whether "the parish disapprove of the female sex sitting with their hats on in the meeting house in time of divine service as being indecent." In the town of Abington in 1776 it was voted that it was "an indecent way with the female sex to sit with their hats and bonnets on in worshipping God." Still another town voted that it was the "town's mind" that the women should take their bonnets off in meeting and hang them on the pegs.

An Egg Trick.

Hold a raw egg on end and spin it on a plate or other smooth surface. Quickly place the hand upon it for an instant, stopping the motion momentarily. When the hand is removed the egg will resume its spinning. This is because the liquid contents of the shell continued to whirl rapidly when your hand stopped the shell, and if it is quickly released the whirling contents will again set the shell to spinning.—American Boy.

Not for Mr. Peck.

"Wouldn't you try to get a divorce from a woman who abused you and neglected your home and thought more of her club than she did of you?" thundered the big man. "I don't think I would," replied Henry Peck. "I am afraid Henrietta would not let me."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

NOBILITY OF PURPOSE.

If either man or woman would realize the full power of personal beauty it must be by cherishing noble thoughts and hopes and purposes, by having something to do and something to live for which is worthy of humanity and which by expanding the capacities of the soul gives expansion and symmetry to the body which contains it.—Up-ham.

MAKE PEOPLE HAPPY.

Every human soul has the germ of some flower within, and they would open if they could only find sunshine and free air to expand in. If This is Your Birthday JUNE 14

The person of this birthdate has too generous a nature for his own good.

While having a keen mind, he will not be a keen reader of character, although highly intuitive in many ways. He is impatient of methods. He should not try to teach, as he dislikes explanations.

As a public speaker he would be very successful and convincing. This nature should be honest with itself. It should examine its faults and strive for continuity of purpose and action. There is a tendency to be very nervous and he should seek calm and reposeful companions rather than excitement.

This man is an extremist in politics, religion and ideas. Unless this person soon enters into the higher understanding of his spiritual nature his restless, undecided nature may bring disaster in his life. He should marry one born between January 19 and February 20.

Mrs. Albert Chambers was the gracious hostess at a most charming luncheon given at Wiltwyck Inn on Saturday afternoon, in honor of Miss Cornelia Broadhead, whose wedding to John T. Fraud Paint

The worst mistake one is likely to make in painting is wrong paint; it is easy to make.

We all say "Ours is the best;" and there are 1,000 of us. One is best; but a dozen are so near on a level that none knows, for sure, that his is the one.

The worst paints are worst liars; they know what they are, put-on a bold face, and brazen it out.

Their one true argument is low price; but low-price paint is always, must be, a fraud; it is made to cheat cheatable people.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, June 14.—The smaller colleges competing in the big intercollegiate field and track meet each year have not been benefited by the rule adopted in 1914 which designed to help them make a better showing in the classic.

The new rule gives points to men finishing first, second, third, fourth and fifth. When the intercollegiate first was staged in 1876, points went only to the winner of the event. In 1890 it was decided to give five points to the man finishing first, two to the second man and one point to the third. In 1898 the rule changed again, and the first four men were given points, five points going for the first place, three for second place, two for third and one for fourth.

This rule remained in force until after the 1913 battle was staged in Philadelphia. Then the supporters of the smaller colleges asked that the rule be changed once more so that a point would go to the fifth man.

"The smaller colleges never make any sort of showing under the present scoring rules," argued this faction. "They haven't many students to draw from and therefore can't develop winning stars. About the best the little fellows can get is fifth place. Under the present rules no score goes to the fifth man. If a score did go to the fifth man the little colleges would get their names among the point scorers."

The ruling powers in intercollegiate affairs granted this request and the new rule went into force, to-wit: 5 points for first place; 4 for second, 3 for third, 2 for fourth and 1 for fifth place.

But the change hasn't accomplished the expected result. Something like 21 colleges were entered in the recent Philadelphia meets, but only 13 of the 21 got their names in the "Points Scored" column. Two of these—Mass Tech and Bowdoin—squeezed in by the narrowest margin of one point, while John Hopkins got only 1½ points, scoring one man for fifth place, earning ½ a point.

Cornell's sweeping victory in the intercollegiate makes its sixth victory in the past eleven years, but it doesn't give Cornell high honors for victories since the intercollegiate became a fixture in 1876. Harvard holds that honor by a nice margin.

Forty championship field and track battles have been staged during the past 40 years and Harvard has won 13 of them. Yale is second with nine victories, Pennsylvania third with eight, Cornell fourth with six, Columbia fifth with three championships and Princeton is last with one championship.

With an average of 20 colleges competing annually in the event, the 40 championships have been divided among six colleges.

Yale, although second to Harvard in the way of championships, has scored more points than any other college. The New Haven institution has passed a total of 721 points over a 40 year stretch. Harvard's points total 643, Pennsylvania's 535 and Cornell's 381. Yale's greater total of points is due to the fact that on several occasions the Eli crowd sent a team to the meet that grabbed off nearly all the points in sight.

Cornell's great showing in the past years is due very largely to the wonderful coaching the athletes have received from Jack Moakley. He surely ranks as the "wizard" among the college trainers.

"Fight for Cornell—not for your own glory," is Moakley's motto. And his men have adopted it.

Moakley wants his men to gain individual glory if they can do it without jeopardizing the chances of the team as a whole. But Moakley insists that his men should sacrifice individual glory for the greater glory of a Cornell victory. Moakley makes his men work for points—not for records. And because the athletes have obeyed the Moakley mandate they have triumphed six times in eleven years over an average field of 20 starters.

DUKE D'AOSTA

DUKE D'AOSTA, NEXT TO KING, IN COMMAND OF ITALY'S ARMY.

The Duke of Aosta is a cousin of King Victor Emmanuel and until the birth of the King's one son and heir a few years ago was the next in succession to the Italian throne. He is the real head of the Italian armies now invading Austria.

Valuable Borneo Timber.

The most valuable of all Borneo timber is bilian, or ironwood. This is an extremely hard timber, sand-colored when newly cut, but darkens with age. It is so heavy that it sinks in water, and for that reason cannot be rafted down the rivers. About two inches of the outside of the tree is soft and worthless, but the inside can be used for almost any practical purpose where a solid, strong and durable wood is required.

At the Zoo.

A very stout lady at the zoological gardens, says the Philadelphia Record, was seeing the lions fed for the first time, and was rather surprised by the limited amount of meat that was given them. "That seems to me to be a very small piece of meat for the lion," she said to the attendant. The man looked at her with a glimmer of amusement in his eye. "It may seem a small piece to you, mum," he said, "but it's heaps for the lion."

Important Distinction.

"Now I appeal to you as a farmer," began the man with a political argument on his mind. "Well, you needn't," replied Farmer Cornstossel. "I ain't no farmer. I've read all the scientific literature about tillin' the soil an' I'm two crops in debt fur improved machinery. I'm an expert agriculturist."
